SET FOR REMOVAL

WORK CREWS are expected to remove the old 17th Street Bridge on SR 140 either Wednesday or Thursday. The bridge will be lifted from the water by two cranes and then taken up on the south side of the river. Construction on the new span across the Washougal River is expected to take between eight months and one year. (Staff photo by Craig Clohessy)